Germans to tour

By LES SHORROCK

The Socceroos could be facing one of West Germany's leading club teams in a series of games early next year, as well as playing against the Soviet Olympic team, ASF executive director Brian Emery said this week.

The ASF is negotiating with two Bundesliga clubs, one of which definitely will come here for a week during the West German close season.

Oceania elimination tournament in New Zealand. That tournament runs from January 17 to 26, and if the young Socceroos win, they will gain automatic entry into the World Youth Cup Finals in Chile in October 1987.

The Under-16 national team will also be featured in an Oceania elimination tournament which will be held in Chinese Taipei between December 6 and 14. If it wins through, it will be in the World Cup Finals in Canada in June, 1987.

New NSL sponsor?

The NSL almost certainly has lost $200,000-a-year sponsorship from Olympic Airways.

League chairman Sam Papasavas said on his return from talks with the airline to Greece that the company was not sympathetic to extending its agreement, which expires at the end of the season.

Other sources suggest that the league has secured sponsorship of at least $200,000 a year over three years from other companies.

One of the companies is said to be a Japanese manufacturer of power tools.

Olympic Airways has been backing the NSL for the past two years, by providing airline tickets for sale by the club and league.

The company now is expected to shift its sponsorship to South Melbourne Hellas and Sydney Olympic.

There won't be enough time for the Germans, the Soviets and the Socceroos to meet in a triangular tournament, Emery said.

In January, the Australian youth team will be playing the

Slater Player of the Year

Robbie Slater is "Soccer Action's" Ametco Travel NSL Player of the Year.

The Blacktown ace clinched the prestigious award by polling five votes against Sydney Olympic's Slater and Theo Selimidis of Heidelberg. Went into last weekend's final at Stroud locked together on 80 points but Slater polled three votes as Heidelberg went down 2-0 to Adelaide City Juventus.

Slater wins a return trip to Europe, flying Thai International.

Another "Soccer Action" winner is Sydney Croatia's Gordan Arndt, who topped our Mitre Sports Top Goal-scorer list with 16 league goals, four ahead of John Kosmina of Sydney City Hawks.

Arnold wins a magnificent trophy and a complete equipment kit from Mitre. The value of the prize is $500.

Our Medibank Private NSL Under 21 Player of the Year award, worth $200, was won by dashing South Melbourne Hellas and Socceroo defender Angie Postecoglio. Newcastle Rosebud and former youth coach Sean Ingham was second.

The big winners in the Victorian State League were Keith Adams of Springvale City and Ian Stirling of Morwell Falcons.

Adams, the former Ringwood Wilhelmina and Melbourne Croatia player, has failed to preserve its National League status as a result of last weekend's final round.

Among the 10 clubs dropping out of the new league, according to the points table issued by the NSL, are four of the 14 clubs which kicked off the NSL in 1977.

They are, Brisbane Lions, Brisbane City, Adelaide Hellas and Geelong.

This means that the national competition now will be played in only three cities — Sydney, Melbourne and Adelaide — at least until 1988.

NSL chairman Sam Papasavas this week firmly dismissed speculation that any club that missed the cut when the league is reduced to 14 clubs would receive preferential treatment.

"I can assure you that no club that fails to fulfil the criteria will receive preference at the expense of another one that has qualified."

The figures below are provisional until they are ratified by Finals fever!

By LES SHORROCK

Finals fever comes to Melbourne and Sydney on Sunday and if last weekend's last round of the NSL is any guide, we should be in for a feast of good soccer.

At St. George Stadium in Sydney, fourth-placed Marconi meets fifth-placed Sydney Hellas in the elimination final at 1pm, then Sydney Olympic, which finished second, meets third-placed St. George in the qualifying final.

In Melbourne, at Olympic Park, the first game pits Sunshine George Cross against Heidelberg Alexander in the elimination final, followed by the qualifying final between inexperienced team. The gamble paid off. Although Hakoah had retained a finals berth, and provided nothing goes wrong tonight, Marconi will face a team welcoming back about seven first-team players.

Sydney Olympic, still facing a takeover bid from TV impresario Harry Michaels, has shaken off its recent jitters with two good wins in successive weeks, and with Marshall Soper restored to favor and Vincent Estavillo firing, should have too much firepower for the Saints.

Nanda Cup Final furore

Sydney City Hakoah is livid over the decision to play the Nanda National Cup Final in Adelaide to night (Wednesday). The match starts at ?

The NSL Executive decided to award home ground advantage to Adelaide Hellas on the grounds, according to league manager Peter Russell, "that the competition was originally started by the clubs to gain income".

"It is anticipated that having the match in Adelaide will ensure a better gate," he said.

To which Hakoah manager-coach Eddie Thomson's retort was to remind the decision-makers of the 1985 final match between Hellas and Canberra at Hindmarsh "attracted" a gate of $3200, which converts to approximately 700 people.

Thomson expressed bitter relief that the final is only a one-leg affair, "or we might have been playing one game in Adelaide and the other in Melbourne.

"We have had only one match at home this year, probably due to a slip-up by someone in the NSL. In fact, in 10 years of the Cup I can only recall Hakoah ever having three home matches," Thomson claimed.

Small consolation for Thomson and his team, but NSL manager Russell did express the hope that the Cup will be reorganised into an event that places the emphasis on soccer instead of just dollars and cents.

The hope of many is that this does eventuate, otherwise that little credibility the competition does have now surely will evaporate.

NSW clubs to vote on restructuring

THE NSW federation has called its member clubs to a meeting on Tuesday, October 7.

At the meeting it will outline its plans for restructuring all the NSW leagues in 1987.

NSW secretary Aulden Brown stressed this week, however, that the meeting depended on the NSL having made its final decision on which of the Northern Division clubs will be relegated.

"Certain proposals will be put to the clubs," said Brown, "and if they accept them, all well and good. If they don't, then it's back to the drawing board."

Bobby Flavell recalls the Bogota affair

By LES SHORROCK

A very interested spectator at recent matches in Melbourne has been a smallish, rather rotund man with a ruddy face and twinkle in his eye.

To look at him, you'd never guess that he was once one of Scotland's deadliest and most skilful strikers.

He is, of course, Bobby Flavell, over here visiting his son Gordon, the ex-Preston Makedonia and now Fawkner midfielder.

Bobby Flavell would have been a lot more famous had it not been for the Second World War, because he wasn't able to make his full international debut until 1947.

The period between 1939 and 1947 represents a huge gap in official football records, because war-time internationals, as they were called, were not recognised as full internationals.

The authorities encouraged some sport during the war, and professional footballers like Flavell, who were in the forces, had to find the nearest club according to where they were stationed.

Flavell guested mostly for Arsenal, but was always in demand for charity matches.

In 1942 he had the honor of being presented to the King of England, George VI, at Wembley, before playing for Scotland against England.

But his career had begun long before that, in fact at the tender age of 13 he was training full-time in Airdrie.

What happened was Bobby, one of the directors at Airdrie, was a schoolmaster, and he arranged with my schoolmaster for me to be let off school Tuesday morning to train full-time with the Airdrie

A white cap, a pair of glasses and just a face in the crowd. Bobby Flavell

The race is on to sign the NBSL's 'discards'

Can you see this as a Socceroo formation? I can.

You've guessed it. They're all players from clubs not likely to be playing in next year's 14-team NSL.

And, with a couple of veterans apart, it's not a bad team is it? Every one of them either a current, former or young Socceroo.

But there are others: Crook, Hummel, Zaimi, Zrilić, Vlietstra, Giraldi, Palacios, Giampaolo, Cumming, Mark Jones, Russell Stewart, Danny Wright, Senkalski, Curtis, Denyer, Ward.

Adelaide City's defenders must have wondered by now where Yankos and Dunn will play next season, for it must be presumed they would prefer to stay in Adelaide. Or Hristodoulou who, with a current young Socceroo guernsey, is still too young to want to contemplate an overseas appointment.

Goalkeepers in Sydney, too, must be a little jittery about Tony Franken's migration to the Big Smoke. Sydney City and Croatia are rumoured to be after him and, if the choice be made, you can put your money on the latter. As I write, no less than five Sydney clubs are after him.

Slater was an interested spectator at the recent Marconi-Sydney Croatia match and his name already has been linked to Croatia. As, incidentally, has Dunn's. Indeed, Sydney Croatia tried to sign him earlier this year.

Maier, Ingham and that Newcastle goal machine Mark Jones have not yet been linked with other clubs —

Yet another Australian player soon could be joining the ranks of expatriates like Jim Patikas, Oscar Crino, Davie Mitchell and Eddie Krnecic.

Goalkeeper George Bouhoustos, 17, understudy to Gary Meier at Sydney Olympic, has been offered a chance to join Patikas at Greek First Division club AEK Athens.

The offer came through close family friend Con Tzavellas, who also arranged Patikas's move.

Tzavellas, a former Canterbury-Marrickville committee-man, has watched Bouhoustos since the talented goalie was 11.

Bouhoustos wasn't always a goalkeeper. He started playing for Pagewood-Botany at the tender age of seven. He was a striker then, but when he was nine, the club's goalkeeper signed full professional forms and made his debut in 1983 as an outside right playing in what was then Scottish's top league, the First Division.

"The manager called me to one side and said to me: 'You're big enough now, Ireckon my education wouldn't suffer if I missed it'.

Airdrie reckoned he was "too wee", so the burly-burly of professional football and he was loaned for six months to a famous Junior club, Kirkintilloch Rob Roy. But as soon as he turned 17 he was recalled, players. Tuesday was wood-work day, and they reckoned my education wouldn't suffer if I missed it".

Once in the forces, Flavell soon was in demand for Scotland. One of his most memorable matches was an encounter with Ireland, which Scotland won 7-0. He scored five goals that day.

After the war he still was in demand for Scotland, competing with Jimmy Delaney and Willie Thornton for the centre-forward berth. He toured Europe with Scotland in 1947, playing against Belgium and Luxembourg, scoring twice against the latter.

He still is very friendly with Thornton and says Thornton is fond of sidling up to him and saying, like a ground announcer, "Thornton replaces Flavell". Flavell always retorts: "How many goals did you score in 1947?" Thornton? "Thornton says 21 and Flavell says 'Well, I scored 60 that year'."

Sixty goals in one season! It's enough to make modern strikers want overseas and Bouhoustos took over.

And he stepped in to such good effect that he went on to play at under 13, 14, 15 and under 16 levels for NSW, the Australian under 15s in the Oceania tournament, and then was a member of the Australian under 16 squad that played in China last year.

During that time, Bouhoustos progressed from Botany to Canterbury-Marrickville for two years, then on to Sydney City Kookaburra for a year, before joining his favourite club, Olympic.

Two people have had a great influence on his career, specialist goalkeeper coach Nick Sokolov, who used to play for St George, "who taught me all I ers blushed with shame, yet there was so much talent about in those days that Flavell managed to gain only two full caps.

In 1948 he was transferred to Heart of Midlothian for the then Scottish record fee of £11,000. Hearts were in danger of relegation at the time, so they bought Flavell and George Hamilton from Aberdeen to stop the rot. Stop the rot they did, winning six and drawing three of their last nine matches to finish in a comfortable mid-table position.

But Flavell doesn't have very fond memories of Hearts. In 1950 he figured in the notorious Bogota affair, as it came to be known.

Bogota is the capital of Colombia, which then was not a member of FIFA. Famous Blackpool and Scottish striker Jock Dodds was acting as an agent for the two Bogota clubs, Santa Fe and Millonarios, and already had lured George Mountford and Neil Franklin from Stoke City to Santa Fe, without any transfer fees, of course. Stoke was furious, as was the English FA, because Franklin at the time was the cornerstone of Walter Winterbottom's England defence.

Dodds persuaded Flavell and Manchester City's Roy Paul, a Welsh international, to join Hearts, the then leaders of British football, without any transfer fees, wing-back Charlie Mitten left Manchester United, then on tour in the US, and flew down to Colombia to join Santa Fe.

The affair caused a huge scandal in football circles, and after great pressure had been applied by the English FA, FIFA admitted Colombia and the coper was over. When that know about goalkeeping", and national youth coach Les Scheinfung.

"Scheinfung had a great influence on my attitude," says Bouhoustos, "and going overseas with him taught me to approach my game much more professionally."

His respect for Scheinfung is such that he will discuss the AEK offer and the bearing it might have on his Australian future with the coach when the national youth squad assemblies for a training camp on September 30.

Bouhoustos has a two-year contract with Olympic which expires at the end of the season. If he goes to Greece, probably in December, it will be with the club's blessing.

Going to China was a big eye-opener for me, not only because the country itself was so different, but because we also got the opportunity to watch how other countries, like West Germany, went about their training.

"I honestly believe that at under 16 and youth level we have as much skill here as there is anywhere in the world. But after that, because of their professionalism and full-time training, the rest of the world leaves us behind."

Bouhoustos sees it that way too.

season finished, the British players returned to face still penalties.

"It was good in Bogota," recalls Flavell. "There were lots of good players there, like Di Stefano, and the ball was always on the ground being knocked around. The spectators loved it."

"But when I got back, Hearts let me down. The SFA secretary, Sir George Graham, said to me that Hearts had signed me for ten years, for £1,000. I'd get off easily, but they didn't want to know. So I was suspended for four months and fined £150, a big sum for a player in those days, but I should have appealed, because after the George Eastham restraint of trade case, I reckon I would have won."

After Bogota, Flavell was transferred to Dundee ("the best club I was ever with"), and he nearly won a Scottish Cup winners medal with the Blues.

It was there that he played with the man he regards as his favourite Scottish player of them all, Billy Steel, who had just returned from Derby County.

Hearts met Motherwell in the 1952 Scottish Cup Final and Olympic president Tom Doumouys says: "Good luck to him. We won't be standing in his way. He represents an investment for us, because when he comes back he'll be a much better player for the experience."

Bouhoustos sees it that way too.

George Cross finished

the home-and-away series with only three defeats —

less than any of the other

23 NSL clubs. And according to president Alf Zahra —

he heaped praise on

coach John Gardner —

The Cross was dead unlucky not to win at least half of the 11 games that finished in draws.

In other words, the Cross, by Zahra's reckoning, should have been way ahead in the championship race.

That aside, George Cross

now has a real chance of becoming Australian champion.

Those who saw its spirited opening half hour and its action closing sequence combined with the phenomenal play of 16-year-old John Markovski and midfielder Roger

Bain — not to mention the defensive strength of Steve

Richardson and John Campbell — would have to give

George Cross a big, big chance of emerging with the ultimate accolade.

Laurie Schwab

It remains to be seen whether he replaces Tyrone James. Brunswick-Juventus is said to have offered James an $8000 signing-on fee to switch camps. George Cross is preparing to make James a counter-offer to keep him at "home". James, meanwhile, is sure to be a leading candidate for the Premiers' Medal and the Press Association Player of the Year. Other leading candidates are Theo Selimidis and Alan Hunter of Heidelberg.

Gardiner's secret — apart from expert coaching — has been team-work. It was all for one and one for all throughout the season.

Adelaide Hellas, meanwhile, made more changes than the team could cope with. Its huge outlay on Yankos, Dunn, Ward, McLaughlin and Hristodoulou — what happened to McLoughlin? — were to mount as Adelaide Hellas will be forced to qualify for the 1987 NSL. At least they're in the National Cup Final.

One wonders what will happen to the Adelaide Hellas stars next season. Surely Yankos will return to Melbourne, while Dunn, Hristodoulou and a few more will be on the shopping lists of other NSL clubs. Apart from getting the George Cross seniors into fourth place and hoisting the youths to the championship, George Cross coaches John Garner, Jimmy Rooney and John Webb also savored success as players with Chelsea which was promoted from the Second Division of the Provisional League. Another eminent player at Chelsea is Jimmy Smart (ex-Lions, George Cross, Juventus and Victoria).

With Noel Mitten and Don MacLaren back in the George Cross team, the home team started with Jeff Faulkner heading home a cross from Don MacLaren in the 7th minute. Tyrone James accidentally touched the ball with his forearm in the 28th minute, allowing Gary Ward to equalise from the penalty spot.

From a cross by Markovski, Mitten headed Georgie back into the lead but by half time, it was 2-2, as Robbie Dunn scored with a spectacular volley while falling sideways.

Mitten and Carl Gilder worked the ball square across the box for Markovski to score with a sensational spinning shot just inside the far post in the 53rd minute. Goggin added a header by Dunn over the crossbar, and at the other end, Gilder missed with a first-time header following a cross by Markovski.

John Panagis missed after a through ball from substitute George Konstadopoulos, and then Chris Manou came on to replace Steve Atsalas in Helas' midfield.

Mitten laid the ball square for Markovski to steady pick his spot and make it 4-2 for George Cross in the 69th minute, and Gilder missed a sitter with a first-time shot following great lead-up play by Bain and MacLaren.

Dunn failed twice for Adel- laide Hellas and then Tim Brown, who earlier had been shown the yellow card, was sent off for pushing Gilder to the ground.

It was the new faces (of 1987 or 1988?) when Hakoah — assured of a finals spot — took on Wollongong, who will resume next year in State League football.

With St. George Budapest's win the night before removing the threat of Newcastle and a Cup Final looming up three days hence in Adelaide, Hakoah coach Eddie Thomson shuffled his cards and came up with a combination which had his team's supporters rubbing their eyes in surprise.

Missing from the injured Tony McCulloch and Murray Barnes, as were Joe Watson and Jean Paul de Marigny, kept in reserve for the Adelaide outing and sitting on 11 points, one away from an automatic suspension.

Add to this list the suspended Steve O'Connor (three matches), Gerry Gomez (two) and John Kosminski who was sitting out the second of his two game banishment, and it was an unusual looking Hakoah combination, indeed.

Wollongong thus had a chance to avenge a victory in the final NSL appearance and, thanks to a couple of uncharacteristic lapses by the vastly experienced Alex Robertson, did return home with a couple of points.

In the second minute the Hakoah stopper misdirected a backpass, allowing Pat Brodnik to score.

He compounded this "sin" by handing in the identical minute of the second half, with Giacomo Morlando confidently converting the penalty kick.

Before the break we saw some skills displayed, but after the break and the second goal Hakoah's colts ran out of ideas and the visitors never looked threatening.

Although especially in the first half the Blues, through the long range sharpshooting of Mike Bradnick and Murray Barnes, as were Joe Watson and Jean Paul de Marigny, kept in reserve for the Adelaide outing and sitting on 11 points, one away from an automatic suspension.

Souness and the keenness of Farina and Saad, had the chances to equalise and even hit the front, the main interest centred on Thomson's "new faces".

The most competent seemed to be 17 year old full back David Barratt, a member of the Australian Under 16 side which competed with such great distinction in the World Cup in China last year.

Barratt looked very capable indeed and grabbed his chance at the top with calm confidence. He joined Hakoah last year after first leaving a suburban amateur side to trial with Aberdeen in Scotland.

It was the Scottish club's manager Alex Ferguson who recommended him to Thomson.

Barratt and the other youngsters tried gamely to rise to the occasion, but on the day they couldn't quite match a very ordinary Wollongong team which made no mistake in capitalising on the two chances that matched its way in a clash which came its way in a rainy, gloomy day in Sydney.

Its ability to adopt better to the conditions helped St. George to overcome a stubborn Newcastle Rosebud by driving rain.

After Newcastle had held the visitors to a half-time draw in the second period and but for fine goalkeeping by New Zealand international Clint Gosling would have gone down by a bigger margin than the final 2-

I scoreline.

St. George went ahead in the 16th minute, when striker Graeme Fletcher reacted quickly to smother Ross Milosevic's clearance, and slammed the ball past Gosling.

However, Newcastle struck back quickly, and only two minutes later, Neil Owens cleared away down the left and crossed hard for Sean Ingham to bring the ball under control at the second attempt and beat St. George goalkeeper Terry Geddes from close range.

In the second half, it became a case of St. George versus Gosling, and eventually the breakthrough came in the 63rd minute.

Miklos Orszagh got clear down the right and crossed accurately for Fletcher to notch his second goal.

After the game, Newcastle coach Peter Irving, while disapproving of the result, which spoilt the entire National League soccer in Newcastle, said St. George was the better team on the night and thoroughly deserved its win.

With an outside chance to sneak into the top five,

Preston Makedonia needed to win by at least four goals and, after a somewhat shaky first half, it certainly achieved that objective.

However, as it turned out, the other results did not favor Bill Murray's team, but at least Makedonia finished the season on a high note, having scored eight goals in its last two matches.

Brisbane City, with its future already decided, had only pride to play for, but only managed to do that in the first half.

In the second half, particularly after substitute Steve Smith's goal, City forgot all about pride and its farewell performance in the NSL turned out to be a rather disappointing affair.

Gary Cole opened the scoring after only two minutes, converting Ron Campbell's pass with a low shot just inside the post.

After this early setback, Brisbane City came back strongly and created just as many scoring chances in the first stanza as did Makedonia.

Frank Mengotti came close in the 10th minute but his shot was blocked and, in the best move of the half, Alan Reis combined well with the overlapping Rod Vasquez releasing him on the left and blasting the return goal from close range. Phil Traianedes denied Reis with a fine reflex save.

Only two minutes later, in the 10th minute, Joe Carroll burst through to find space on the 16-metre line, but he also found Mekedona unbreakable.

A few minutes later another desperate defensive lunge, this time by Cooley, saved Olympic then, with minutes in the first half, the Demons missed another chance. Carroll slipped past Brandt and beat Meier from an angle but his shot sailed past the far post.

If that wasn't enough to break the Demons' hearts, then the missed chances in the second period certainly would have.

Opportunist finishing coupled with an ounce of luck kept Sydney Olympic's flag high after its last-round encounter against the Demons at Pratten Park.

Tony Patulis took a swing at the ball in the 72nd minute only to see it deflect off a Blacktown defender and into the path of Peter Rastopoulos. Sydney Olympic's captain took off for the penalty area, beat a defender, then faced Barry Hoare before finding the far corner of the net.

A lucky deflection, a brilliant finish by Rastopoulos and two points which landed Sydney Olympic in second place on the league table.

Early on, Olympic did not enjoy the match much with Blacktown having the best share of chances and looking confident indeed.

Robbie Slater was effective in the opening stanza and was the first to taste the freedom of the park after beating Olympic's outside trap to face Gary Meier. He was at an angle but his drive was not good enough to beat Meier.

Only two minutes later, in the 10th minute, Joe Carroll burst through to find space on the 16-metre line, but he also found Mekedona unbreakable.

A few minutes later another desperate defensive lunge, this time by Cooley, saved Olympic

then, with minutes in the first half, the Demons missed another chance. Carroll slipped past Brandt and beat Meier from an angle but his shot sailed past the far post.

If that wasn't enough to break the Demons' hearts, then the missed chances in the second period certainly would have.

Not that there were many of them but the two that had prevented his training during the week.

Demons coach Zoran Matic compensated from his sparse squad by recalling young goalkeeper Steve Nisicoli as a reserve and devising a plan which could have meant using goalkeeper Willie McNally as a striker if he had more than one injury.

But Juventus was lucky because it came through unscathed, while Heidelberg could not continue after half time and when Semelidis suffered a head wound which needed stitches.

Juventus notched two fine goals to gain the points which carried it above Heidelberg on the league ladder and secured its place in the finals.

The first came in the 37th minute as Neville Flounders climbed high to nod on a corner from Adrian Santrac for Joe Mullen to kick accurately past Jeff Oliver in the Bergers' goal.

Mullen drove home the second in the 54th minute after Mullen and Steve Maxwell swept forward in an inspiring manner.

However, that goal brought accusations of offside from Oliver, who ran over to the lines came the Demons' way should have been taken. Both fell to youngster Paul Quarshy.

Sydney Olympic too had chances during the second period. Chris Kalantzis almost surprised Hoare after a huge goal kick by Meier. The ball bounced midway inside Olympic's attacking half.

As it came down, Kalantzis intercepted with a fierce header which skimmed the post.

A free kick by Peter Katholos by Simon Brandt head just inside the 70th, but the best opportunity fell to Marshall Soper in the 88th.

Katholos beat the offside turn and rounded the advancing Hoare by well wide. Soper came in to support him and Katholos obliged by lifting the ball straight at Soper and inches away from the line. With the net gaping open, Soper headed wide!

which had prevented his training during the week.

Demons coach Zoran Matic compensated from his sparse squad by recalling young goalkeeper Steve Nisicoli as a reserve and devising a plan which could have meant using goalkeeper Willie McNally as a striker if he had more than one injury.

But Juventus was lucky because it came through unscathed, while Heidelberg could not continue after half time and when Semelidis suffered a head wound which needed stitches.

Juventus notched two fine goals to gain the points which carried it above Heidelberg on the league ladder and secured its place in the finals.

The first came in the 37th minute as Neville Flounders climbed high to nod on a corner from Adrian Santrac for Joe Mullen to kick accurately past Jeff Oliver in the Bergers' goal.

Mullen drove home the second in the 54th minute after Mullen and Steve Maxwell swept forward in an inspiring manner.

However, that goal brought accusations of offside from Oliver, who ran over to the lines man to file his complaint.

Adelaide City coach Zoran Matic said his team played well considering the pressure for a high place in finals.

"It was a reasonable performance and under the circumstances, was probably better than we expected," he said. Heidelberg coach Brian Garvey said he was disappointed with his team's effort and conceded Adelaide City was the better side.

"They passed the ball around better than us and looked threatening from corners and on the counter-attack," he said. "But if we had finished off our chances in the late stages we could have had three goals."

With Villani back and provided fluids, Buys Nyskohus, Mullen, Maxwell, Aurelio Vidmar, Adrian Santrac, Paul Shillabeer, Alex Tobin, Paul Wilde and the irrepressible McNally retain their enthusiasm and form, Adelaide City Juventus will give the national title a tough shake.

As SA's sole survivor, much is expected of Matic and his fine crew.

It was a good game, but the pair went up for a high ball that had swung away from keeper Zoran Nikolic in the gusty wind. Hunter got his header goals but caught the JUST sweeper in his determination to get in an attempt.

Footscray reshuffled with Tom Arcie moving to sweeper and Wayne Evans to stoppage. With Spink waiting on the bench only minutes later — testimony to his professional fighting spirit.

But it was obvious he was not well when through an interpreter he asked: "What's on television?" He was then taken to hospital but allowed to return to Melbourne with the team later.

The loss of the experienced defender seemed to upset JUST and the Brisbane team dominated for the remainder of the game.

John Ogden was superb in midfield, not only winning a high ball over the bar.

The second half opened in a promising manner for Brisbane City with Reis nearly getting the better of Traianedes with a powerful shot which the keeper spilled at first but managed to gather at the second attempt.

Gary Cole opened the scoring after only two minutes, converting Ron Campbell's pass with a low shot just inside the post.

After this early setback, Brisbane City came back strongly and created just as many scoring chances in the first stanza as did Makedonia.

Frank Mengotti came close in the 10th minute but his shot was blocked and, in the best move of the half, Alan Reis combined well with the overlapping Rod Vasquez releasing him on the left and blasting the return goal from close range. Phil Traianedes denied Reis with a fine reflex save.

Only two minutes later, in the 10th minute, Joe Carroll burst through to find space on the 16-metre line, but he also found Mekedona unbreakable.

A few minutes later another desperate defensive lunge, this time by Cooley, saved Olympic

then, with minutes in the first half, the Demons missed another chance. Carroll slipped past Brandt and beat Meier from an angle but his shot sailed past the far post.

If that wasn't enough to break the Demons' hearts, then the missed chances in the second period certainly would have.

Not that there were many of them but the two that had prevented his training during the week.

RICOH CAMERAS

"Tutto e' bene quel finisce bene", dice il vecchio proverbio che fa proprio al caso della Juventus di Melbourne che ha finito il campionato con una prestazione spettacolare acciuffando così lo scudetto del girone meridionale.

La strabiciata storia sulla tradizionale avversaria dell'Hellas (i cui tifosi hanno innanzitutto un grande cartellone osannante le "mangiatori di spaghetti" dei loro beniamini; spaghetti che ovviamente sono andati per traverso) ha avuto una impronta tutta particolare fatta di orgoglio, rabbia, cuore e classe.

L'orgoglio di Zinni, che come unico giocatore italiano in campo e' apparso votato a conquistare vittoria e scudetto per i colori bianconeri anche a costo di dover far tutto da solo, la sua forza e' stata di ispirazione ai compagni di squadra che pian piano sono usciti dal buco riacquistando fiducia nei propri mezzi con il passare dei minuti.

Si e' vista cosi' venir fuore il gran cuore di Cullen, il veterano "piccolo" che ha fatto onore al suo nomignolo di "tigre" in occasione del secondo goal decisivo, quando l'Hellas stava andando all'arrabbiaggio per preoccuparsi di altri, riguardo a "piccoli" un difensore avversario, gli e' piombato addosso come una saetta finendo a gambe all'aria assieme per rialzarsi come una molla, imbadronirsi della sfera e metterla sulla "testina d'oro" di Zinni che ha giustiziato Lammi per la seconda volta.

Si e' vista cosi' anche la rabbia di Durakovic, un giovane leone rugliente costretto in panchina dal nome Lewis e che puo' scendere nella lotta sul suo ruolo quando il direttore e' qualificato o infortunato, la sua prestazione di domenica scorsa dovrebbe dire qualcosa a McKendry.

E' stato anche un piacere rivedere la classe di Petersen brillare di nuovo in maniera decisiva.

E tutti gli altri atleti bianconeri hanno fatto bene la loro parte, perfino Patterson (nel secondo tempo) che negli ultimi tempi aveva lasciato molto a desiderare.

Zinni trascina la grande Juve

Ed e' stato anche una grossa soddisfazione per la tifoseria bianconera rivedere in campo verso il finire Fabio Incantalupo sprizzante salme e energico, nonché nella misura in cui ha messo fuori causa per quasi due stagioni.

Alcuni dubitano sulle sue possibilidades di ritornare ai precedenti livelli, noi siamo invece sicuri che li superera' perché ha classe, ha tiro, ha controllo di palla e sapiente distribuzione.

I due anni persi non contribuiscono a farlo impattare contro il destino che si e' accanito con lui.

Siamo sicuri che il meglio di Fabio Incantalupo deve ancora venire.

E potrebbe venire durante le prossime settimane se McKendry avra' il "coraggio" di dargli fiducia e farlo partire titolare per carburarsi ed entrare nel ritmo di gioco.

Non dimentichiamo che furono le due reti di Fabio (una per partita) a dare alla Juventus la vittoria sul Sydney City l'anno scorso ed il titolo di campione d'Australia.

E' stato anche bello vedere in campo il giovane David Vescnaver negli ultimi minuti di questa storica vittoria, egli rappresenta, con il suo nome illustre, la Juventus del passato e, con la sua giovane età, la Juventus di domani.

Ed a proposito di domani, ci sono frotte di ragazzi in bianconero che stanno sbocciando nel vivido di Summer Park, oggi senz'altro la migliore scuola di calcio in Victoria.

Mentre la prima squadra si copriva di gloria a Middle Park, le premavano U/18 e U/16 conquistando la V.S.F. Cup e la U/13 incarna la miseria che lo ha messo fuori causa per quasi due stagioni.

bianconero hanno stravinto in extremis un campionato che il loro allenatore aveva perso diverse volte!

A McKendry diamo il merito parziale di essere stato meno tardivo di quanto sembrava, forse anche sotto la pressione diretta e indiretta delle critiche costruttive e delle accuse perniciose messegli da lui e da altri stivali "ruffiani".

Non pretendiamo di avere tanta influenza, ma tre settimane fa, dopo le catastrofi di Heidelberg e Brisbane, avevamo suggerito a McKendry di tornare ai vecchi sistemi "Margaritani" con il libero strettamente in ultima battuta per tutta la partita (e da due settimane Yzendoorn ha finalmente giocato così), i terzini tornanti quando possibile (e da due settimane Campbell, Lewis e il sostituto Durakovic hanno giocato così), il centrocampista del centrocampo con massima liberta' di rallentare il gioco e spingersi in avanti come mezza punta (e da due settimane egli ha giocato così), gioco d'attacco largo sulle ali per aprire la difesa avversaria (e da due settimane Cullen, Palatsiatis e Patterson hanno giocato così).

C'e' solo da sperare che abbiano finalmente capito la lezione e che il successo conquistato dai suoi ragazzi non gli faccia credere nuovamente di essere quel grande allenatore che non e' e che abbandoni perciò definitivamente il "vangelo secondo McKendry", la Juventus di domenica ancora una volta di averne i numeri in abbondanza per sminuire qualsiasi squadra nel torneo finale che porta al titolo australiano a condizione che la si lasci giocare secondo i suoi grandi mezzi.

Non vogliamo minimamente offuscare lo strepitoso trionfo bianconero, anzi vogliamo dargli una dimensione maggiore asserendo con incrollabile convinzione che i ragazzi in

MILUTIN CIRIC KNOCKED OUT

Northcote 1
West Suburbs 1

Scorers: Hamill 1st (W);
Patsikas 85th (W).
Venue: John Cain Reserve,
Saturday, September 16.

If you regard soccer as entertainment then this game had all the ingredients of good theatre.

The curtain went up with a bang, and it came down again after a stirring climax that had the Northcote supporters in a frenzy.

Inbetween there had been plenty of end-to-end play, goonhounds scrambles galore, and the odd bit of drama thrown in for good measure.

The draw was a reasonable result, and everyone went away happy, so for both clubs the season ended on a good note.

The game was only 31 seconds old when Northcote's Juan Torro, rather lazily, went into midfield tackle, and lost the ball to Mike Hamill, Wests' blonde bombshell of a left-back.

Hamill looked up and saw hectares of open space between him and the Northcote goal, and just put his head down and went. The shot went in off the far post and left poor Mark Turrida wondering if the rest of his team had heard the kick-off whistle.

For the rest of the first half it was all Northcote, but it couldn't make any impression on Wests' defence, where Robert Palmaricciotti was outstanding.

Up front, Western Suburbs has as talented a trio as the league in Ged Stenson, David Smallman and Bobby McGuinness, and it seems a pity and a great waste of that talent that they spend more time in dispute with the officials than playing.

Northcote coach Roy Mac-lan wasn't happy with his players at half time, and when I asked him if he was going to make any substitutions he said: "I'd like to substitute all bloody 11!"

But the players must have got the message, for they gradually built up the tempo and in the closing stages had Wests struggling to cope.

The ball seemed to be perpetually in Wests' penalty area and the 85th minute when Toro atoned for his first half boob and crossed for substitute Tom Patsikas to equalise with a cracking header.

The drama didn't end there though.

Having scented victory, Northcote pressed on eagerly, and we had a last-minute substitution when Wests' goalie, Milutin Ciric was knocked out accidentally and reserve goalkeeper Fotis Alexopoulos was brought in.

Although Northcote won a couple of free-kicks, Alexopoulos wasn't tested, and after about five minutes overtime, the game and the league season ended all square for both clubs.

Grgic saves Dinamo

Man of the match:
ROBERT MORREY
(Melbourne)

Melbourne 0
St. A./Dinamo 0

Venue: J. T. Gray Reserve,
Saturday, September 16.

St. Albans Dinamo scrambled into the top four following the point it gained from a very nervous performance against already relegated Melbourne Hungaria at J.T. Gray Reserve.

Dinamo started the game without star midfielder Mark Wilson, out suspended, and coach Tony Vrzala took the risk of placing striker Ivan Dzel who had not played for the previous six weeks due to injury.

Morrey had little to play for but proved to be the better team.

Dinamo keeper Mate Grgic made two magnificent saves in the final minutes in the first half to keep his side in the match.

His first save eventuated when a John Bird free-kick from the half way line was hoisted high to St. Albans' far post where midfielder and man-of-the-match Robert Morrey rose superbly and headed the ball goalwards only for Grgic to dive full length and touch the ball round the post for a corner.

The second save denied a goal brilliantly engineered by Melbourne striker Lou Theodosopoulos. The young striker received a long through pass from Morrey by controlling the ball on his right thigh. Another touch of the ball with his left foot enabled him to turn and volley the ball brilliantly towards goal only for Grgic to pull off an equally fine save.

The longer the match progressed the more nervous Dinamo players became.

Morrey continued to dominate play from the centre of midfield and he almost won the match in the final minute when he hit a superb drive from the edge of the area that just cleared the bar with Grgic, once well beaten.

Dinamo's only chance came in 75th minute when substitute Ivan Kelic was put in the clear by striker Kevin Lloyd. It was the substitute's first touch since entering the field but his shot from six metres when straight into the arms of goalkeeper Joe Kiss.

Ramos on rampage

Man of the match:
PEDRO RAMOS
(Box Hill)

Box Hill 1
Thomastown 1

Scorers: Ramos 12th (BH);
Pianalto 57th (T).

Venue: Wembley Park,
Sunday.

Box Hill midfielder Pedro Ramos turned on a superb performance against Thomastown at Wembley Park and helped his team gain the point that ensured it would stay in the top four.

This performance from Ramos could not be better exemplified than by the stunning goal he scored in the 12th minute.

Box Hill was awarded a free-kick just inside Thomastown's half and Gary McPhee side of the penalty area where Thomastown midfielder Andy Higgins rose high to head the ball clear.

The ball only was cleared as far as Ramos who chested it down then flicked it away from Thomastown midfielder Keven Carfora and then away from defender Mike Rainey. The ball still had not touched the ground when Ramos unleashed a thundering volley from the edge of the penalty area that shot past goalkeeper Mauro Raponi at his near post. It was the best goal I've seen all season.

Box Hill dominated the opening half hour.

The second half was much more even but Thomastown goalkeeper Raponi was required to pull off a number of excellent saves.

None was better than his save in the 75th minute to deny Box Hill striker Barry Burton. A corner was played high to the far post where Box Hill stopper Andy McMillan won the heading challenge. The dropping ball was headed on to go in only for Raponi to dive backwards and brilliantly tip the ball over the bar.

Thomastown's equaliser came in the 57th minute when Higgins' free kick was not cleared allowing striker George McMillan to play the ball back into the crowded goal area where Robbie Pianalto slid down to force it over the line.

NSW tops in women's titles

Victoria finished fourth in a field of eight at the National Women's championships held in Adelaide last week.

The tournament was again won by NSW, which has been the winner nine times since the championships began in 1974.

Victoria's placing was disappointing. It should have finished second, but in a week of varying fortunes, Victoria was unable to maintain form.

The team was plagued by injuries from the outset but despite these setbacks, Victoria put in some good performances.

The national women's squad was chosen at the conclusion of the Championships. The squad is Theresa Jones, Andrea Martin, Shona Bass, Janine McPhee, Jane Oakley (Victoria), Moya Dodd, Jill Latimer, Mariana Milanic (South Australia); Julie Murray (ACT); Sharen Mateljan (Western Australia); Helen Shattock, Amanda George

INDOOR SOCCER (international rules)

Peles to meet Carciovanni

White Peles 7
Zlatna Luka 2

Zlatna Luka would have to be the most unluckiest side indoor competition.

The boys have played Indoor Soccer since it inception in Victoria and have always managed to do well or be edged out in the semi-finals. Their Group B semi-final at Donvale against the White Peles was no exception. Both sides lined up confident and eager to challenge Carciovanni in the finals.

But when the whistle blew to start the game the class of the Peles outshone the Zlatna Luka boys and Peles showed them from the word go who was going to dominate.

The first half saw goals from Carlo Battagelli and Bruno and Carlo Sardusci while Zlatna only could manage an own goal.

The talented Tony Mainenti for Peles put in another match-winning performance and although he only scored one goal his class was obvious.

Nino Ragusa put away one in the second half for Zlatna but with two more goals from Baravelli, two from Carlo Sabadussi and one from Mainenti the White Peles had the game easily won.

Ante Pericic played well for Zlatna but the Man-of-the-Match award went to Mainenti. This week sees the final between Carciovanni Rangers and White Peles.

Gips. Ghosts 6
S. Operators 5

Practice matches leading up to the start of the new season caught a couple of teams by surprise.

The Smooth Operators, league champions of Group A, came across a very determined and strong Gipsy Ghosts.

Gippstars 9
Gladiators 2

The Gippstars finally came good to break the drought at the expense of the Gladiators in this Thomastown League match.

Captain Michael Kyriakopoulos was the main instigator of their win and contributed one goal as well many near misses.

Theo Stratopoulos and Michael Contos scored two each with John Patisas also having a fine game. The Gladiators scorers were Chris Temouskas and Tanaveki and these two were their better players on the night.

Keep going Gippstars you still might get there!

At the end of the first half the Ghosts were leading 6-2.

The Operators pulled a few tricks out of the hat in the second half and responded with another three goals.

The Gippstars Ghosts were playing like men possessed and were overjoyed at having defeated the operators.

Maurice Bisetto said after the game that his team did not have its full side out and that its new player had yet to come to terms with indoor soccer.

Disciples 6
Fijiiana 6

This was definitely Carlo Innamorati's game as he amassed a total of five goals.

The first half saw the Disciples down 3-1 and newcomers Fijiiana were smiling, only to be shocked at how the Disciples came back in the second half with five goals, to which the Fijiiana camp only could respond with three.

Time ran out for both teams but spectators were kept on their toes from start to finish.

Kaiser Chiefs 5
Canons 4

This was an entertaining affair with the Kaiser Chiefs just edging out in front.

Spiro Alatas was again in fine form and the Chiefs had their work cut out to restrain him.

However, Jack Talia, in brilliant form, ensured victory for the Chiefs with a hat-trick.

Sparano, recapturing some of his brilliant form, completed a sparkling touch with Stan Ison, playing his usual solid game.

Canons played an all-out attacking game and both sides could have mounted higher scores.

Constantinou played well in his guest appearance for Chiefs.

In the Latrobe Valley League, Turfites combed excellent teamwork with well-placed passes to leave their opposition, Woftam, scoreless.

Suzanne Cassar broke through the Woftam defence to score a strong goal in the first half. Carolyn Vokes also from Turfites scored a well-placed goal in the second half as her side ran out a 2-0 victor.

Wallies 3
Lasers 0

The match between Wallies and Lasers was a quiet one compared to their previous matches.

Wallies were missing Mick Braune but played well and penetrated the Laser's defence.

Goals were scored by Mick Collins and newcomer M. Remington who opened his account with two goals. Lasers, captained by Arthur Tsilabakis, tried valiantly to hold back Wallies but were unable to stop three goals.

Ansett Stars 4
M. Eliminators 2

ANSETT VALLEY STARS: Van Der Zalm 8, Cassar 8, Browne 7, White 6, Henderson 7, Coad 6, Tan 6.

MELBOURNE ELIMINATORS: Terzini 8, Nogger 8, Bon 7, Kondinski 7, Micheloudakis 8, Bisetto 6, Kotzamichalis 7, Sella 6.

This NISL game started at a rapid pace but deteriorated due mainly to some bad refereeing decisions.

The Ansett Valley Stars attacked at every opportunity while the Eliminators chose to attack on the break.

Several chances fell to both teams early on with Robbie Nogger for the Eliminators having two shots saved well by Michael Van Der Zalm. The Ansett Stars quickly took advantage and scored. Mack answered Miki Motos' goal with two well placed goals which came as a result of good teamwork.

It was an exciting match to watch and demonstrated the high standard of the women's competition.

Spartans 3
Vicbitters 1

The match between Vicbitters and Spartans was, as expected, a tight one. Vicbitters who led the competition were expected to outclass 4th placed Spartans.

During the first half Spartans scored once through Richard Lloyd. The second half saw Spartans outscore Vicbitters. Neil Lawson scored twice for Spartans to Vicbitters' single goal.

Men's standings: Monash 12; Vicbitters 10; Wallies 8; Spartans 10; Lasers 4; Inter 2; Sticks 2.

Women's standings: Socceros 14; Miki Motos 11; Rico Reds 9; Turfites 8; Sadida 6; Woftam 4; Dodgers 4.

By the time the score became 3-1 the game had turned into a farce. Maurice Bisetto, one of the Eliminators was head-butted in front of one of the linesmen but amazingly no-one was cautioned or sent off. This incident almost started an all-in brawl with the result being a free kick for the Ansett Stars!

For the remainder of the game, the crowd witnessed a spectacle more like a rugby rather than a soccer match.

More controversy followed when, from a throw-in, Anthony Cassar scored his team's third goal. He clearly was inside his attacking penalty area but the referee ignored the protests of the Eliminators coach and the bench.

Vremec and Chris Staikos, were their best players.

The Brilliant Barbas must certainly be one of the favourites along with Manchester Excited on form.

Celtics 7

Furious Five 3

The game was much closer than the score indicates. Furious Five surrendered an early lead of 3-1 in the first half to go down to the more tenacious Celts.

With both teams depleted due to suspensions the game was evenly balanced until John Metaxas exploded with five goals in the second half to take his tally for the match to six as Iliopoulos scored the other.

Furious Five's new signing, Theo Papapanos scored two and along with Les Stilidis was its best player.

John Metaxas was man of the match while young Michael Metaxas playing in his first full game was dangerous up front and very unlucky not to score.

Gippstars win, Shamrocks too

Shamrocks 7
Marazico 4

A great game by two extremely lively teams. The Shamrocks set up their victory by jumping Marazico at the start to lead 3-0 at half time.

Marazico fought back gamely in the second half with two goals by Nick Arena and one each to Fabrizio Corra and Con Larenzetti.

The Shamrocks however steadied and proved to be worthy winners. Shaun McGovern, John and Patrick Keoghan scored two each with Paul Murphy scoring the other.

McGovern and Keoghan were the Shamrocks' best while Dom Diseria was Marazico's best player.

Brilliant Barbas 10
Internazionale 3

The Brilliant Barbas are having a tremendous first season. They remain undefeated and are sitting pretty on top of the ladder.

They were just too good for Internazionale on the night with livewire Perry Bellegrove scoring five goals. George Bellegrove scored a hat trick with Twinkie tos' Pasanelli scoring two.

Internazionale tried hard as usual but could not come up with the goods on the night. Nino Vernali scored two with Nick Staikos scoring the other and these two along with David Aki Kotzamichalis then pulled a goal back for the Eliminators when he received a pass from Ernie Boos and placed his shot wide of the grasp of Van Der Zalm.

Cassar increased the lead for the Ansett Stars with a long range drive which rocketed into the net.

The goal was marred when Cassar gestured to the Eliminators bench and received a caution. When Bisetto questioned the referee's choice of punishment for Cassar, Bisetto was sent off!

The final scoreline of 4-2 in favour of the Ansett Stars was overshadowed by the poor refereeing performance.

All-out assault by Melita

Air Malta player of the year award

No further list of leading players will be published. The winner will be announced at the "Soccer Action" Player of the Year dinner to be held at the Fraternity club in Fairy Meadow on October 11.

The revised Skypak State League final

Melita Eagles have all three grades in the major semi set for Sunday at Melita Stadium with the first grade side favoured to beat Manly, and the second grade side having a definite edge over Freshwater.

It is doubtful though that the Melita Eagles youngsters will have an easy game against an unbeaten Sutherland side in third grade.

Even if it fails against Sutherland, the young Melita team should win the following week to join its highly rated first and second grade sides in an all-out assault on three Grand Finals.

I expect Manly Warringah to come out firing on all cylinders with Jimmy Campbell, Paul Marshall, Allan Dean and Robbie Stuart more than Uproar over Tortelevski!

The NSW State League play-offs ran into serious problems and were postponed for a week after a protest by Manly Warringah led to a number of meetings of the NSW executive.

Manly protested against the use of suspended player Ray Avala in the match against Manly at Oatman Park in the last round of the Premiership.

After some deliberation, it was decided that Avala had committed an error and last Sunday morning the match result (1-1) was amended and Manly was given the points with a 1-0 scoreline.

It was alleged by Manly that Avala's Yugoslav import, Radak, had accrued four yellow cards before the match against Manly. Radak had protested to the NSW State League officials about his visa.

To add to the league's problems, it took three meetings to resolve a registration wrangle regarding Rockdale Ilinden's highly touted midget, Mihailo Tortelevski. He did not play in Ilinden's last two matches.

Originally registered as Zoran Tortelevski by the NSW federation, Ilinden's player was later confirmed to be Vladimir Tortelevski and had to be properly registered under the name he played with in Yugoslavia and Holland.

At the end of round 23, Ilinden fell a point behind the premiers, Melita Eagles, and looking forward to the match with Melita to decide which team would go straight into the Grand Final.

Manly now will play Melita Eagles in the major semi with the winner going into the Grand Final and the loser playing another "bite of the cherry" against the winner of the elimination final between Rockdale Ilinden and Sutherland.

a hurdle in midfield for the likes of Ray Farrugia, Howard Tredennick, Paul McFadden and Lenny Vial.

Dragan Popovac is playing with the poise of a veteran in goal for Melita as is Bob Callin for Manly.

Melita's back line of Lomas, Wilson, McCoy and Williams has a fine leader in Kenny Wilson while John Dick, Dennis, Robin and Van Egmond will be hoping to stop the likes of Farnsworth, Callanan or McFadden.

It is difficult to see Manly succeed up front as neither Allan nor McIntosh has set the league on fire this season.

Ilinden and Sutherland are in the other semi. Ilinden has more skill while Sutherland is the harder working side.

It is a "must win" situation but difficult to predict the outcome. During the last part of the season when Sutherland was an outright favourite it was Rockdale Ilinden which won

Then, with Ilinden enjoying favouritism, it was Sutherland which strolled along to victory.

Ilinden was penalised last week and dropped down to the elimination finals and that has fired up many of its players.

Sutherland will certainly feel the brunt of Ilinden's wrath at Melita Stadium on Saturday in a match which is going to be full of fire.

Sutherland has done well in knockout competitions and despite the slight favouritism of Rockdale Ilinden I see this one going into extra time.

Kenny Wilson (No.4) is carried shoulder high by delighted fans after Melita's title success.

EAGLES SNATCH CLUB TITLE

All three of Melita's sides are in the finals with the first and second grades winning the Minor Premiership. Melita's trophy cabinet is getting a bit small for all the hardware accumulated over the last few years.

Not only did Melita win First and Second Grade competitions this year but also the Club Championship. Melita finished some 28 points in front of second placed Sutherland.

Here is the formula for deciding the Club Championship standings: Points are multiplied by five in first grade, by three in second grade and by two in third grade.

ΤΑ ΝΕΑ ΤΩΝ ΟΜΑΔΩΝ ΜΑΣ ΑΠΟ ΤΟ ΣΗΜΕΙΟ ΤΟΥ ΠΕΝΑΛΤΥ

ΕΛΛΗΝΙΚΟ ΚΥΠΕΛΛΟ

ΤΟ ΕΛΛΗΝΙΚΟ Κύπελλο που θα αρχίσει τον Νοέμβρη, βρίσκεται σχετικά με τη διεξαγωγή του και το σπότιμα τις ομάδες ΔΟΣΑ, ΚΑΪΣΤΟΝ ΧΙΑ, ΚΑΡΑΠΙΝΤΑ και Ν.ΕΑ ΛΑΔ.

Είγουντο το σύστημα είναι κάπως μπερδέμενο και πιστεύεται ότι θα βρεθεί μια μαζιτέρη φόρμουλα.

Πάντως οι μικροπρεξηγήσεις που έγιναν στη Βραδιά της κλήρωσης και οι δυο συγκεκριμένες απαντήσεις που δόθηκαν εις μέρος της επιτροπής, έδειξε ότι μια ακόμη φορά μια κάποια πράξη δρομολογήθηκε.

Είπαντο ότι θα ένων λίγα σκέδων είναι έτοιμα για τη διοργάνωση του Κυπέλλου, οι υπέρθυνοι δεν έχουν ξεκαθαρίσει τα χρήματα που εποδέκεται να πάρουν οι ομάδες από την περισσή διοργάνωση:

και να εκθέσουν τους λόγους που η ομάδα τους έμεινε έξω από την πεντάδα με τρομερές οικονομικές συνέπειες.

Αποτύχια πέρα για πέρα φέτος στην Ελλάς Ηλείβορνης η οποία ζεκίνει στο νυκτερινό τουρνουά και τελείωσε στη Μέντα Πάρκ με την μοναρχία της 22ης αγωνιστικής.
